8 Business Statement (Leader of the House)

9 Police, Crime, Sentencing and Courts Bill: Reasons Committee

Kit Malthouse reported that the Committee had agreed the following Reasons:

Lords Amendment 58

Because it is premature to confer new search and seizure powers on the Food Standards Agency until the accompanying accountability arrangements, including in respect of the handling of complaints about the exercise of such powers, have been determined.

Lords Amendment 71

Because police officers are already subject to a duty to cooperate during investigations, inquiries and formal proceedings and it would be premature to add to such provision pending further consideration by the Government.

Lords Amendment 72

Because pending the Government's full consideration of the Law Commission's review of hate crime legislation, the Law Commission has identified adding sex or gender to this legislation could prove detrimental to efforts to tackle violence against women and girls.

Lords Amendment 73

Because it is appropriate for the police to be able to attach conditions to a public procession where the noise generated by persons taking part in the procession may result in serious disruption to the activities of an organisation which are carried out in the vicinity of the procession or may have a significant relevant impact on persons in the vicinity of the procession.

Lords Amendment 81

Because it is not appropriate to enable authorisation to be given for obstruction of access to the Parliamentary Estate.

Lords Amendment 82

Because it is not appropriate to enable authorisation to be given for obstruction of access to the Parliamentary Estate.

Lords Amendment 107

Because the Amendment is unnecessary as there is no legal barrier to local authorities setting up and running academies.

Lords Amendment 141

Because conduct requiring or arranging sexual relations as a condition of accommodation may already constitute an offence under the Sexual Offences Act

2003 and the Government is committed to undertaking a consultation on whether the law in respect of such conduct needs to be strengthened.

Lords Amendment 142

Because conduct requiring or arranging sexual relations as a condition of accommodation may already constitute an offence under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 and the Government is committed to undertaking a consultation on whether the law in respect of such conduct needs to be strengthened.

The Reasons were agreed to.
