BUSINESS OF THE DAY1. LITHIUM-ION BATTERY STORAGE (FIRE SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITS): TEN MINUTE RULE MOTION*Up to 20 minutes (Standing Order No. 23)Dame Maria Miller

That leave be given to bring in a Bill to make local fire services statutory consultees for industrial lithium-ion battery storage planning permission applications; to make provision about the granting of environmental permits for industrial lithium-ion battery storage; and for connected purposes.

2. FINANCIAL SERVICES AND MARKETS BILL: SECOND READINGUntil 7.00 pm (Standing Order No. 9\(3\))Caroline Lucas*Clive Lewis*Liz Saville Roberts*Claire Hanna*Ben Lake*Hywel Williams*Olivia Blake

That this House declines to give a Second Reading to the Financial Services and Markets Bill because it creates a new objective to promote growth and competitiveness, rather than making the creation of a wellbeing economy designed to foster long-term economic resilience and prosperity its overarching objective, fails to introduce the future regulatory framework required to align the activities of the financial sector with the UK's target of net zero by 2050 or with international climate obligations to limit global temperature increases to 1.5 degrees Celsius, is deficient in its requirements on regulators in respect of climate and nature outcomes, reduces democratic scrutiny and increases industry influence on rulemaking, and fails to prevent either greenwashing by the sector or investment in fossil fuels, or to ensure a rapid, stable, coordinated and just transition to a low-carbon economy, to advance financial inclusion, and to protect consumers, investors, banks, asset managers and other financial institutions against the catastrophic financial risks associated with climate and nature breakdown.

That this House declines to give a Second Reading to the Financial Services and Markets Bill because it seeks to facilitate unnecessary and damaging regulatory divergence between the United Kingdom and its key trading partners, allows insufficient parliamentary oversight of proposed regulatory changes, undermines the independence of statutory regulators, gives insufficient priority to the protection of investors and consumers and to supporting the Government's stated objectives on climate change, and fails to provide sufficient safeguards on access to cash.

BILL OF RIGHTS BILL: SECOND READING

Caroline Lucas

This House declines to give a Second Reading to the Bill of Rights Bill, because the Bill attacks the freedoms and liberties protected by the Human Rights Act in an ideologically motivated way, is of supreme constitutional significance and will impact on the rights of individuals for many years to come but has not undergone pre-legislative scrutiny in line with the recommendations of the chairs of relevant cross-party committees, ignores the results of two consultations into the Act, vastly exceeds the manifesto commitment to ‘update’ the Act, does not come with publication of relevant and robust impact assessments, ignores the fundamental principle that human rights are not earned or contingent on a person’s conduct or character but are attached to a person by virtue of their humanity, undermines migrants’ rights at a time of unprecedented international turmoil, threatens the Good Friday Agreement, risks severing the ties between domestic rights and Strasbourg jurisprudence leading to a divergence in rights protection leaving the UK out of step with other members of the Council of Europe at a time of war in Europe, fails to improve citizens’ rights to access nature and to live in a safe climate, fails to improve the rights of children, disabled people and future generations, undermines efforts to tackle violence against women and girls, and distorts and undermines this country’s democracy by increasing the power of the executive over citizens by removing and weakening rights instead of enshrining and improving them.
