scrutiny in line with the recommendations of the chairs of relevant cross-party committees, ignores the results of two consultations into the Act, vastly exceeds the manifesto commitment to update the Act, does not come with publication of relevant and robust impact assessments, ignores the fundamental principle that human rights are not earned or contingent on a person's conduct or character but are attached to a person by virtue of their humanity, undermines migrants' rights at a time of unprecedented international turmoil, threatens the Good Friday Agreement, risks severing the ties between domestic rights and Strasbourg jurisprudence leading to a divergence in rights protection leaving the UK out of step with other members of the Council of Europe at a time of war in Europe, fails to improve citizens' rights to a clean, healthy and sustainable environment, to access nature and to live in a safe climate, fails to improve the rights of children, disabled people and future generations, undermines efforts to tackle violence against women and girls, and distorts and undermines this country's democracy by increasing the power of the executive over citizens by removing and

That this House recognises the urgent necessity of dealing with the small boats problem which puts at risk the lives of desperate and vulnerable people; but declines to give a Second Reading to the Illegal Migration Bill because the measures contained therein will not be effective in doing this and because the Bill fails to meet the UK's commitment under the Refugee Convention, fails to meet the UK's commitment under the European Convention on Human Rights, would remove the right to appeal asylum decisions, would criminalise asylum seekers for exercising their legal right to seek asylum, fails to outline the UK government's statutory obligations on asylum, would increase delays within the Home Office and would leave many people in limbo as the backlog of asylum claims increases, would be unworkable, would cost an exorbitant amount to the taxpayer, fails to tackle smuggling gangs, does not address modern slavery concerns, fails to appoint an independent modern slavery commissioner, would leave people seeking protection at greater risk of exploitation and does nothing to address the need for faster, more efficient and humane decision-making within the Home Office.

B. REMAINING ORDERS AND NOTICES

Bell Ribeiro-Addy

That this House endorses the aim of saving lives and breaking the business model of people smugglers running small boat Channel crossings, as stated in paragraph 1 of the Explanatory Notes on the Illegal Migration Bill; but declines to give the Bill a Second Reading because it fails to ensure safe routes for refugees, fails to protect people from harm and exploitation by people smugglers, further expands the hostile environment for migrants which treats them as less deserving of dignity, safety and humanity and contravenes the United Kingdom's duties under the Refugee Convention 1951 and the Protocol 1967 and other fundamental and internationally recognised human rights including the right to claim asylum, the right to family life, legal rights for detained people and the prohibition of degrading inhuman treatment.
