URGENT QUESTIONS AND STATEMENTS

12.30pm

Ministerial Statements, including on:

- Illegal Migration Update (Minister of State for Immigration)

PRESENTATION OF BILLS

No debate (Standing Order No. 57)

- Non-Domestic Rating Bill

Secretary Michael Gove

Bill to make provision about non-domestic rating.

- Victims and Prisoners Bill

Secretary Dominic Raab

Bill to make provision about victims of criminal conduct and others affected by criminal conduct; about the appointment and functions of individuals to act as independent public advocates for victims of major incidents; about the release of prisoners; about the membership and functions of the Parole Board; to prohibit certain prisoners from forming a marriage or civil partnership; and for connected purposes.

- Elections (Voter Identification Requirements) Bill

Helen Morgan

Bill to remove the requirement for voters to show an identity document in order to vote; and for connected purposes.

- Local Electricity Bill

David Johnston

Bill to require the Secretary of State to establish an export guarantee scheme for small generators of low carbon electricity; to set a tariff, based on market rates, for the sale of electricity under the export guarantee scheme; to make provision to enable small generators of low carbon electricity to sell electricity directly to local people; to place certain duties on the Gas and Electricity Markets Authority; and for connected purposes.

BUSINESS OF THE DAY1. CO-OPERATIVES (PERMANENT SHARES): TEN MINUTE RULE MOTION*Up to 20 minutes (Standing Order No. 23)Gareth Thomas

That leave be given to bring in a Bill to enable co-operatives to issue permanent shares; and for connected purposes.

That this House declines to give the Finance (No. 2) Bill a second reading because, notwithstanding the necessity of charging income tax to support public services, it does not put in place a proper windfall tax to fund additional energy support; it unfairly penalises people for every extra pound they earn by keeping income tax thresholds frozen; and it derives from a Budget which fails to set out measures that would deliver strong, sustainable and fair growth for the UK economy; fails to cut household energy bills by £500 and extend energy support for businesses, which risks making the cost-of-living crisis and inflation worse; fails to support the most vulnerable with the cost of living through doubling the Warm Home Discount and the Winter Fuel Payment; does nothing to fix NHS backlogs and social care staff shortages, which is essential for reducing the large number of workers who are economically inactive due to ill-health; and fails to provide properly-funded free and flexible childcare that works for parents; contains no measures to fix crumbling schools and hospitals; and does nothing to invest in infrastructure that will stop the dumping of raw sewage into the UK's rivers and beaches.

That this House declines to give a second reading to the Finance (No. 2) Bill because it derives from the Spring Budget 2023, which fails adequately to address the fall in living standards, fails to address the long-term problems of the economy including failing to return productivity to historic levels, and fails to address the economic damage to trade and the supply of labour caused by Brexit; because the Bill fails to increase the Annual Investment Allowance; it places restrictions on certain research and development expenditure; it removes a cap on the lifetime pension allowance; it delivers a disproportionate increase on Scotch whisky; and because the Budget it derives from seeks to support untried small modular nuclear reactor technology instead of investing fully in green, clean, renewable technologies.

That this House declines to give the Finance (No. 2) Bill a second reading because, notwithstanding the introduction of the multinational top-up tax and electricity generator levy, it fails to introduce a targeted scheme to address pension issues affecting NHS doctors, instead making blanket changes to tax-free pensions allowances which, as they will cost around £1 billion a year and benefit only those with the biggest pension pots, should not be the priority, and because it derives from a Budget which failed to set out an ambitious plan for growing the economy.

2. BILL OF RIGHTS BILL: SECOND READING

Caroline Lucas

This House declines to give a Second Reading to the Bill of Rights Bill, because the Bill attacks the freedoms and liberties protected by the Human Rights Act in an ideologically motivated way, is of supreme constitutional significance and will impact on the rights of individuals for many years to come but has not undergone pre-legislative scrutiny in line with the recommendations of the chairs of relevant cross-party committees, ignores the results of two consultations into the Act, vastly exceeds the manifesto commitment to update the Act, does not come with publication of relevant and robust impact assessments, ignores the fundamental principle that human rights are not earned or contingent on a person's conduct or character but are attached to a person by virtue of their humanity, undermines migrants' rights at a time of unprecedented international turmoil, threatens the Good Friday Agreement, risks severing the ties between domestic rights and Strasbourg jurisprudence leading to a divergence in rights protection leaving the UK out of step with other members of the Council of Europe at a time of war in Europe, fails to improve citizens' rights to a clean, healthy and sustainable environment, to access nature and to live in a safe climate, fails to improve the rights of children, disabled people and future generations, undermines efforts to tackle violence against women and girls, and distorts and undermines this country's democracy by increasing the power of the executive over citizens by removing and weakening rights instead of enshrining and improving them.
