BACKBENCH BUSINESS

■ Second Report of the Foreign Affairs Committee, The cost of complacency: illicit finance and the war in Ukraine, HC 168, and the Government response, HC 688

Sir Bernard Jenkin

That this Houses notes the Second Report of the Foreign Affairs Committee, The cost of complacency: illicit finance and the war in Ukraine, HC 168, and the other work by Committees of this House on the war in Ukraine; affirms its support for the measures taken by the Government to support the government and armed forces of Ukraine in the defence of their country against the illegal and unprovoked invasion by President Putin's military forces; further notes that, while the UK admires much of Russia's history and culture, this House is deeply concerned at the suppression of democratic freedoms to the detriment of the Russian people and utterly condemns President Putin's war of aggression; and urges the Government to continue its support for the Ukrainian armed forces through the provision of weaponry and training, through its ongoing campaign to unify and enlarge NATO, and through rallying international opinion and action in support of Ukraine, until the Russian armed forces have been expelled from all Ukrainian sovereign territory as recognised in international law.
