Other Proceedings

Reasons Committees: Reports

13Illegal Migration Bill: Reasons Committee

*This item has been corrected since publication. See the correction in the Votes and Proceedings relating to Thursday 13 July 2023.

Robert Jenrick reported that the Committee had agreed the following Reasons:

Lords Amendment 1

Because it is unnecessary, as the Bill does not require any act or omission that conflicts with the obligations of the United Kingdom under the European Convention of Human Rights or other listed international instruments, and it would undermine the UK's dualist legal system.

Lords Amendments 6, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64 and 65

Because it is necessary on grounds of public order to disapply protections for potential victims of modern slavery temporarily in response to the current scale of illegal migration.

Lords Amendment 7

Because, as the Bill provides for two classes of suspensive claims, with a right of appeal to the Upper Tribunal, it is appropriate that any application for judicial review does not suspend removal.

Lords Amendment 8

Because unaccompanied children will be removed only in the limited circumstances set out in clause 3(3) or once they turn 18 and will be able to challenge their removal by making a serious harm suspensive claim.

Lords Amendment 9

Because the Amendment is contrary to the purpose of the Bill to prevent and deter unlawful migration.

Lords Amendment 23

Because the Amendment is unnecessary as an LGBT person who is a national of a country specified in the Amendment and who makes a protection claim will not be returned to their home country and can make a serious harm suspensive claim in the event that it is proposed to remove them to a safe third country.

Lords Amendments 30, 32 and 34

Because it is necessary to ensure that the National Referral Mechanism is not used as a loophole by persons arriving illegally to make false claims to avoid being detained in or removed from the United Kingdom and that persons subject to the clause 2 duty may be detained in order to facilitate their swift removal from the UK.
