■ UK-EU Summit

Priti Patel

James Cartlidge

Andrew Griffith

Alex Burghart

Alan Mak

Richard Fuller

Rebecca Harris

Julia Lopez

Gareth Bacon

Kevin Hollinrake

That this House recognises that the Conservative Party stands by the result of the 2016 referendum to leave the European Union (EU); calls on the Government to stand by that decision at the summit with the EU on 19 May 2025, to put the national interest first and not to row back on Brexit, for example by re-introducing free movement through a EU youth mobility scheme, accepting compulsory asylum transfers, creating dynamic alignment between the UK and the EU, by submitting the UK to further oversight from the European Court of Justice or by joining the EU's carbon tax scheme which will lead to higher energy bills; further calls on the Government to stand by the will of the British people by ensuring that no new money is paid to the EU, that there is no reduction in UK fishing rights, that NATO remains the foundation of European security and that the UK can continue to undertake strategic and defence agreements with non-EU partners; and also calls on the Government to put the negotiated outcome to a vote in the House of Commons.

Notes:

The selection of the matter to be debated has been made by the Leader of the Opposition (Standing Order No. 14\(2\)).

Amendment (a)The Prime Minister*Pat McFadden*Nick Thomas-Symonds*Sir Alan Campbell

Leave out from “House” to end and insert “notes the overwhelming mandate on which the Government was elected, which included resetting the United Kingdom’s relationship with the European Union to deepen ties with its European friends, neighbours and allies; welcomes the Government’s commitment only to agree a deal that is in the UK’s national interest and is in line with the manifesto on which the Government was elected; supports the Government’s commitment to agree a new and ambitious security agreement between the UK and the EU to help tackle common threats, whilst noting that NATO is the cornerstone of the UK’s defence; recognises the Government’s ambition to negotiate a sanitary and phytosanitary and veterinary agreement to address the cost of food and to tackle a range of other issues to reduce barriers to trade; and further supports improvements to the UK-EU relationship that are aimed at making the UK safer, more secure and more prosperous, in line with the Prime Minister’s Plan for Change.”

Amendment (b)Ellie Chowns*Carla Denyer*Siân Berry*Adrian Ramsay

Leave out from “House” to end and insert “regrets the £100 billion annual cost of lost output arising from Brexit; further regrets that 14% of UK businesses have been forced to stop trading with the EU; notes that reduced food and agricultural exports have led to an annual loss of £2.8 billion since the end of the transition period, with no signs of recovery, and that food inflation would be 8% lower if the UK had remained in the EU; further notes that the new UK-US deal comes nowhere close to offsetting the economic damage caused by leaving the EU; also notes that a confident forward-looking Britain will be better placed to tackle future challenges, including the climate crisis and the rise of the hard right, through the closest possible co-operation with the EU; calls on the Government to use the forthcoming UK-EU summit to negotiate for rejoining the Customs Union to ease the worst of the trade chaos, to restore free movement and youth mobility, and to rejoin the Erasmus Programme; and further calls on the Government to use the summit to start discussions with the EU on what the process of re-joining would involve, in recognition that polls show a consistent majority in favour of this option.”

Amendment (c)Stephen Gethins*Stephen Flynn*Claire Hanna*Llinos Medi*Kirsty Blackman*Pete Wishart

Chris Law

Seamus Logan

Ben Lake

Dave Doogan

Brendan O'Hara

Ann Davies
